Advices from the belt also told of more concert of action looking to gradual marketing. Wires received in Memphis from Galveston told of factors in the leading markets of Texas urging holding and of practically nothing being offered. Although no action has been taken here along the same line, there is a similar state of affairs and tables are practically all covered and prices now being offered do not interest the seller. It seems to be generally realized that if the market is to become stabilized and prices are not to go below cost of production the producer and holder must refuse to turn loose at lower levels than are now quoted.

ducer and holder must refuse to turn loose at lower levels than are now quoted. Liverimol at the start this morning was down the limit, it now being 50 points sterling, but before closing time came had gone back up that amount, which left quotations at the previous close. This reflected uneasiness among the shorts. Spots were without change and sales 1,000 bales. Receipts were 43,000 bales, recluding 5,000 American. Manchester advised that cloths and yarns were duit and restracted. At the opening on this side prices were sharply higher. In New York some options started at 200 points over last night's close, while others were nearly that much up. January opened at 21,50c, but quickly went to 28,05c, which was the limb. 5 little bedge is selling sent it back to 27,20c, but there was nothing to encourage pressure and evidence of spots being steader caused good support and later in the afternoon it sold back as high as 28 cents. Sentiment was distinctly more favorable and everybody was watching the spot situation in the belt.

There was bothing nuch being done in that department, but it was felt that ere long husiness would pick up. Statistics were delayed, out came bearlish as expected. The weather in the belt continued favorance, but indications were for rains to spread over all sections.

CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—Despite transient weakness due to selling on the part of leading commission houses, the corn market developed strength today owing largely to assertions that European shortage of food supplies would have to be relieved by short hauls as much as ressible, and that the drain on this country's resources would continue. Estimates that 1,500,000 tons of German and Austrian shipping would be available, tended also to have a builtish influence. There was talk, too, of an improved demand from feeders southwest. Opening prices, which ranged from $c. 0ff to $c. 2 advance, with December $1.18½ to $1.20, were followed by a slight general setback, and then a rise all around to well above yesterday's finish.

In the late dealings the upward impetus of a big decrease of corn acroage in winter wheat states. The close was strong, 2474c net bigüer, with December $1.21% 471.22% and January $1.22% 401.23%.

New Orleans—The weather may shows little rain in the western belt, but the eastern belt is dry. The outlook seems to be for more rain. Southern seems to be for more rain. Southern spot men are entering an organized movement looking toward the removal of all restrictions on cotton exports. Should the present restrictions be modified or be removed, a spot demand of consequence would immediately spring up.—Shepard & Gluck.

New Orleans—New York wires: Shorts want to cover, but there is lit-tle cotton for sale. Liverpool shorts plainly are getting nervous.—Shepard bard to Reese.

New York—Liverpool market prohibits all sales, except in liquidation of long contracts; practically stops trading there. The restrictions on short sales on this side makes market narrow and sensitive; this explains advance today. Meantime market will be governed by mill demand for actual and holder's pressure to sell actuals or futures as hedges, with continued effort to control values by legislation.—
